Scheduled Business

a. Street Maintenance Overview

10:03 a.m.

Ron Irish introduced Robb Romeo, Transportation Manager for the City of Albany, who gave an overview of his duties and responsibilities and explained what his department does. Discussion ensued on various topics, including thermoplastic vs paint on streets, the city's 5-year plan, funding, prioritizing street maintenance, CIP, slurry seal program, and gas tax funding.

Ron Irish clarified that while this commission does not make recommendations directly to council on a regular basis, it has been done, generally when council asks for feedback on a specific issue. It would be unusual for this commission to present recommendations to council for issues such as street maintenance or funding prioritization, but there is nothing preventing the commission from doing so. The best time to do this would be when the city is considering the adoption of a new Capital Improvement Program (CIP), setting a new 5-year plan, or adopting the next year's budget. Steph Nappa suggested this be added to the list of Pending Agenda Topics so the commission can keep these ideas in mind.
